

Social and Personal

MRS. C. G. Burton, of Richmond, accompanied by Miss Elizabeth Neely, of Portsmouth, will represent the Virginia branch of King's Daughters in the conference of the international order that opens in Baltimore to-day and continues until November 15.

Miss Annie Lee Bland, of Richmond; Miss Frances Jordan and Miss Kate Cooper, of Baltimore; Mrs. Edward Starke and Miss Pauline Sowers, of Norfolk, are members of an antenatal house party, now being entertained in the home of Dr. William Francis Cooper, of Newport News, whose daughter, Mary Lucile, will be married to Howard Wheatley Bowen, of Newport News, on Tuesday evening next, November 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel R. Buxton, Mrs. Mary Byrd Dimmock, Mrs. Mary Wellford and little daughter and Miss Cora and Miss Dimmock, of Newport News, who have been traveling abroad since the early summer and having a delightful trip, have returned.

Mrs. Pritchett Complimented.
Mrs. James I. Pritchett, of Danville, Va., who with her little son, has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Drake, in Richmond, has been greatly complimented during her stay, friends vying with each other in invitations to luncheons, teas and theatre parties.

To Lecture at Woman's Club.
Professor T. L. Lounsbury, who has the chair of English at Yale University, and is as widely known through his authorship as through his reputation for distinguished scholarship, will come to Richmond after delivering a series of literary lectures at the University of Virginia, and appear before the members of the Woman's Club, at 4:30 o'clock on the afternoon of November 21.

During his stay in Richmond, Professor Lounsbury will be the guest of Colonel W. G. McCabe. Members of Woman's Club and their friends are to be congratulated on having such an opportunity ahead of them.

Bridge-Whist Party.
What promises to be a fashionable event of this week will be the bridge-whist party, which will be held Friday afternoon, November 18, from 4 to 7.

SEASON'S FIRST RUN OF CASTLE HILL HUNT

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Gordonville, Va., November 11.—The season's first run of the Castle Hill Hunt, Mrs. Allen Potts, M. F. H., was held this afternoon at Lower Springs, the residence of W. W. Osborne. The start was made at 1 o'clock with seven couples in the pack. The run was made over the country west of Gordonville on good rolling land. On the course were ten stiff rail fences, all of which were taken without mishap. There were no accidents, and the field finished with the pack. A large crowd was out to witness the finish of the day's run. Those riding were Mrs. Allen Potts, M. F. H., on Willow King; Ladd, first whip, on Prince Royal; Sandy, second whip, on Pretty Maid; W. W. Osborne, on Red Leaf; James M. Andrews, on Blackbird; James M. Andrews, on Somers; on Blue Run; Mrs. Andrews, on a black mare; Beach Lawrence, on Bonnie Belle; James Woodruff and Mr. Irving. Others present at the finish were Miss Anne Royal, of Richmond; Mrs. Ruffin, of Springfield; Stuart McElroy, of Blocker and Mr. Estis.

Read Succeeded Stuart.
Washington, D. C., November 11.—Announcement today of the appointment of Fred Read as collector of customs at Newport News, Va., marked the end of a fight that began early last winter and ended with the retirement from the office, which he had held for four years, of J. E. Stuart, son of the famous Confederate cavalry leader.

Monument Unveiled.
[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Henderson, N. C., November 11.—Yesterday was a gala day for the people of Vance, and hundreds of citizens, both of this and neighboring counties, witnessed the unveiling ceremonies of the monument erected by the Vance County Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, in memory of those who gave their lives for the Lost Cause. The monument is located on the county green. The exercises began at 10:30 o'clock. Governor W. W. Holden, accompanied by the Carr, delivered appropriate addresses. The monument is thirty-five feet high.

SOCIETIES MAY PAY INCOME TAX

Fraternal Insurance Associations Will Soon Be Given Hearings.

RESPIRE GIVEN CONVICT

Biggs Given Chance for Appeal. Election Returns Now Coming In.

Fraternal beneficiary associations doing business in the State of Virginia should be taxed, in the opinion of some of the State officials, a rate of 1 per cent on their gross premium income. At present these concerns pay nothing to the State save a small entrance fee. The fact that this matter is receiving official attention from the State Tax Commission is indicated in an invitation extended to representatives of the companies to appear at any time during the week of November 21 and discuss the questions of insurance taxation. Commissioner D. S. Freeman and possibly other members of the commission will sit at the hearings.

Would Be an Item.
A tax of this sort would amount to quite a large sum with some of the associations, as their business in Virginia is widespread. Last year the total income from members in this State reached $1,041,000, and on this basis they would pay a tax of $10,410. The Tax Commission has practically completed its investigation of the subject of insurance taxation, and plans

BIGGS RESPITED

Negro Will Be Given Chance for Life Before Supreme Court.

Governor Mann yesterday granted a respite to Richard H. Biggs, a negro who was convicted of murder at Newport News and sentenced to be electrocuted on November 12. The new date fixed for the execution is December 21.

This delay is granted to permit Biggs to present a petition for an appeal to the Supreme Court. He evidently has some friends, said to be in North Carolina, who will make a fight for his life. If the evidence in the case which has reached the Governor is correct, the crime was a very aggravated one.

RETURNS COMING IN

Official Results of Election Will Soon Be Known at Capitol.

Returns from Tuesday's election were received yesterday at the office of Secretary of the Commonwealth B. O. James from perhaps half of the counties and cities of the State. They reflect the abstract vote as prepared by the city and county election commissioners. Some additional returns will come in to-day, but other will be delayed for several days, or perhaps a week, because of corrections which must be made in a number of instances where judges of elections made technical errors in the vote. For the most part the counties reporting are those whose vote on the amendments has already been printed in The Times-Dispatch.

UNEQUAL ASSESSMENT

Similar Property in Different Counties Shows Wide Discrepancy.

Showing the ridiculous nature of Virginia's system of property assessment, and the need of some equalization power, it is found on examination of the valuations in the Auditor's office that the widest difference exists in assessment of similar lands. For instance, a line between two certain counties seems to make a good deal of difference in value.

One man who owns land on both sides of this line, constituting one continuous farm, finds that his property in one of the counties is assessed at 84 cents an acre, and on the other at 27 cents an acre, the latter of equal value in the eyes of the owner.

A woman who owns two farms of similar land, one in one county and the other close by in another county, has her land valued at just four times the amount per acre in one county as in the other. The property is actually watered and rolls in about the same manner, and if anything the land of lower value is somewhat better wooded than is the other.

It is such inequalities as these which the next Legislature will be asked to correct in some manner yet to be worked out by the State Tax Commission.

Teachers' Institute.

Superintendent J. D. Eggleston, Jr., of the Department of Public Instruction, will, yesterday, to Allegheny county, where he will address a teachers' institute. He will then go to Staunton for the same purpose. Without returning to Richmond, he will proceed to Indianapolis to join the superintendents of the Southern States for their tour of inspection of consolidated schools in Ohio and Indiana as guests of the Peabody Fund. He will return in time for the meeting of the Virginia Educational Conference.

New Station Is Opened.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Fredericksburg, Va., November 11.—The new depot of the Richmond, Fredericksburg and Potomac Railroad at this city was thrown open to the public last evening for the first time. It is a splendid structure and one of the best equipped stations in the State. It is finished throughout in chestnut. The floors are of terrazzo, with separate waiting rooms for white and colored. Both electric and gas lights are used. The building is heated by steam.

U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals.

The United States Circuit Court of Appeals, Second Circuit, sitting at 11 o'clock, with Circuit Judges Edwards and Pritchard, and District Judges McDowell and Rose in attendance.

Judge L. L. Lewis appeared at the opening of court and presented the resolutions adopted by the Bar Association of the city of Richmond on the death of the late Beverly Bland Munford, Judge Pritchard responded for the court and ordered that the resolutions be entered upon the minutes of the court.

Samuel H. Kunatich, of New York City, was admitted to practice in this court. The following cases were argued: No. 85—United States vs. appellant, vs. Sauter, N. Sprung, appellee; on appeal from the District Court at Norfolk, Va. Cause argued by L. L. Lewis, United States at large, and by Samuel H. Kunatich, of New York City, for the appellee.

No. 86—Norwood Paper Company, plaintiff in error, vs. Columbia Paper Bag Company, defendant in error; in error to the Circuit Court at Baltimore, Md. Cause argued by William Reynolds, of Baltimore, Md., for the plaintiff, and by Edwin J. Bae, of Baltimore, Md., for the defendant in error. Pending the argument court adjourned until this morning at 10 o'clock.

At the conclusion of argument in the above case the court will hold a conference on the cases argued on Thursday and yesterday.

DEEP RUN HUNT CLUB HOLDS SECOND DRAG

The second drag of the season will be held by the Deep Run Hunt Club this afternoon, beginning at 3:30 o'clock. The start will be from the A. R. Hill Monument in Hicmago Road, and it is expected that the Country Club will be reached by 4:30 o'clock. The course is one of the prettiest in the vicinity of Richmond, and a large field is expected to participate. Several receptions will be tendered in the clubhouse after the drag.

Fined for Violating Speed Laws.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Lynchburg, Va., November 11.—Four white colored chauffeurs of the city were fined $2 to-day at Monroe for alleged violations of the speed laws of Amherst Turnpike. The negro, who was operating without a State license, was given fifteen days in jail also. All of the cases were appealed from the judgment of Magistrate Kelly, of Monroe.

EDUCATORS MEET NEXT AT CHICAGO

Association of American Universities Holds Final Session.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.]
Charlottesville, Va., November 11.—After an exceedingly delightful session, one of the largest in the history of the organization, the twelfth annual conference of the Association of American Universities, composed of about forty of the most prominent educators in the United States, came to a close this afternoon.

The University of Chicago was selected as the next place of meeting, and officers were elected for the ensuing year as follows: Vice-president, University of Illinois; secretary and treasurer, Harvard. Executive committee, the above named institutions, together with Columbia and Missouri. The visiting delegates this afternoon went on a pilgrimage to Monticello, Jefferson's home.

A paper on the appointment and tenure of university professors was presented at the morning session by President Charles R. Van Hise, on behalf of the University of Wisconsin.

At 1 o'clock the delegates were entertained by the university commons. At 8 o'clock this afternoon there was a conference of deans and administrative officers of graduate schools. The conditions of admission to graduate schools were discussed.

What policy should be followed with reference to graduates of colleges whose requirements for admission and graduation are below the normal American standard, graduates of professional schools who have not completed a regular college course, and foreign students, were the subjects of discussion.

The following professors, deans and presidents were in attendance: Dean David P. Barrows, of the University of California; Rev. E. A. Pace and Professor George W. Bolling, of the Catholic University of America; President Harry Pratt Judson, of the University of Chicago; President Stanley Hall and Professor E. C. Stanford, of Clark University; Professor William H. Carpenter and Professor Calvin Thomas, of Columbia; Dean Ernest G. Merritt and Professor Frank Thilly, of Cornell University; President A. Lawrence Lowell, Dean Charles H. Haskins and Secretary C. Little, of Harvard University; Director Eugene Davenport, and Dean David Kinley, of the University of Illinois; President William L. Bryan and Dean Horace A. Hoffman, of the University of Indiana; President George E. McLean and Dean W. C. Wilcox, of the University of Iowa; Professor J. S. Ames, of Johns Hopkins; Chancellor Frank Strong, of the University of Kansas; President Harry D. Hutchins and Dean John O. Reed, of the University of Michigan; Dean John F. Downey, of the University of Minnesota; President Albert Ross Hill, of the University of Missouri; Chancellor Samuel Avery, of the University of Nebraska; Dean Herman F. Ames and Dean George B. Fisher, of the University of Pennsylvania; Dean Andrew West and Professor E. G. Conklin, of Princeton; President David Starr Jordan, of Leland Stanford University; President Charles R. Van Hise, of the University of Wisconsin; Dean Frederick S. Jones and Director R. H. Chittenden, of Yale.
